SPECIFIC COMMENTS:

Please describe what you like best about the school/school district you are reviewing:

Inverness has a fantastic attitude toward special needs education. They understand her needs and are always working with us to help her succeed. My child feels welcomed, valued and encouraged. She has also made tremendous progress academically since we transferred to Inverness. We have been amazed by how many times a teacher, therapist, or aide has noticed a need or issue with our daughter and has been proactive in suggestions or accommodations for her. Inverness has also been proactive in keeping her IEP current and appropriate. Another great aspect of Inverness is that they work with her typical peers on accepting/helping/appreciating children who are not typical.

Please describe what you like least about the school/school district you are reviewing:

I have nothing negative to say at this time. Like all schools, I wish they had more funds for technology, resources, and extras.

What changes would you like to see made at the school/school district you are reviewing:

I don't care for the cafeteria food.

What specific problems, if any, have you encountered with this school/school district:

We have encountered no specific problems in this school district. I cannot say the same for the district from which she transferred.

Is there anything else you would like other parents to know about this school/school district:

No school or district is perfect. I know that. I'm sure there are some things that Inverness and Shelby County don't do well. However, what we found so encouraging is the whole approach and attitude that Shelby County, Inverness in particular, has toward special education. It really comes across as a passion for them. I also want to mention that their approach to all the students, not just special ed, is great.
